THE LIBRARY.

TO THE CITIZENS OF WEARE:

Most of you are aware that at the Centre, in the custody of Miss Eva Simons as librarian, is what is called the Weare Free Library. Nearly 100 volumes were furnished by the state. About 30 volumes were added by the use of the $25 furnished by the town. Other books have been presented till we now have over 160 volumes. Since the opening of the library over 400 entries have been made for books. We think these figures make a good showing; good enough to cause us to exclaim "Excelsior—excelsior." Thus far the library has been a great boon, small as it is. More books are needed. This means more reading and more intelligence, and better citizens of the commonwealth and of the nation. A proposal will be presented at our annual meeting for an appropriation. We hope all good citizens will come there prepared to vote it, and also to vote to erect a building at the Centre for town office, and room for library, and plan of which will no doubt be presented by the committee appointed for that purpose last year. It is hoped a liberal spirit will prevail and that we shall "go marching on."

Z. BREED,

Chairman of Library Trustees.

SCHOOL REPORT.

Another fiscal year has been completed, and it becomes the privilege of the school board to again submit its annual report of the several schools in the town district. To say anything new upon school matters or add to what has already been said in former reports is a task which we shall not attempt; yet we feel that the people need to be reminded frequently of their duties and their obligations relative to the education of their children. As a rule, the children are most successful who have the encouragement of their parents, and no teacher, however capable and energetic, can be fully successful, without their support and co-operation. Irregular attendance and numerous instances of tardiness is a common evil in our schools, and one for which the parents are mainly responsible, since they permit their children to stay out of school or arrive late on account of very trivial affairs. Habits of promptness should be inculcated in the children, for such habits, when acquired in youth, will always be practiced. If they are permitted to be indolent and negligent in their school work, they will be found much the same in their methods in after life.

During the passed year very little has occurred to mar the record of the schools or retard their progress. Some annoyances have arisen, but in most instances the teachers have been able to cope with them without assistance from members of the board. The instances in which the board has been obliged to assist the teachers have been mainly where the parents, on account of prejudice or misinformation, have attempted to interfere with the affairs of the school. Generally the parents have seconded the efforts the board and the teachers and moral suasion instead of corporal punishment has been the means of procuring order and maintaining discipline. This is alike agreeable to the board and teachers as well as to the parents. Except in very rare instances the use of corporal punishment in the public schools is unnecessary, and when made use of as the present time it frequently fails to produce the desired result.

There has been much improvement in the methods of instruction during the past decade and we anticipate even greater progress in the future, and all who are connected with the care of our schools should be constantly on the alert for improvements, and to procure for our children the best within our means. More frequent visits from the parents to the schools would be beneficial, since it would encourage both teachers and scholars and increase concerted efforts to attain greater results. The efficiency of a teacher is diminished when all her acts and efforts are regarded with suspicion and criticized by the parents in the presence of the children, and when her manner of dress and personal appearance becomes a common subject for unfavorable comment. On the contrary, her usefulness is very much increased by manifested appreciation and encouragement, and these oftentimes bring success where otherwise the school would be a failure.

LAMBERTS "DEATH TO LICE."

A DISINFECTANT INSECT POWDER.

And a cheap and effective remedy for all kinds of Poultry Vermin. A sure death to lice on hens, chickens, pets, or caged birds, lice on horses, cattle, or plants, ticks on sheep, fleas on dogs, moths, etc. Furs and carpets are never moth eaten when this powder has been applied.

It is harmless to human and animal life, and will not harm the youngest chick. It is an article needed by every farmer, stock-keeper, and in every household. Notice what one man says of it: "I was at one of my neighbors and he wanted me to look at his chickens; said they were sick, I took one up and it was covered with lice. I put some 'Death to Lice' on him and it was not three minutes before they began to drop off."—J. O. TRIP, Mansfield, Mass. What it will do for others it will do for you if you try it. Nothing that will harm animal life—they will not eat it. Full directions on each package. Send for circulars, telling what people say about it.
